CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Southern Gerontological Society (SGS), established in 1979, is a network of the South's most respected gerontology professionals, representing 14 southern states and the District of Columbia. The mission of SGS is to provide the bridge between research and practice, translating and applying knowledge in the field of aging. The SGS Annual Meeting and Conference focuses on advances in gerontological research and applied practice, bringing together those engaged in the field of aging to attend and/or present their latest research, programs, interventions, and workshops. Anyone with an interest in aging is encouraged to attend. The conference will include keynote speakers, panel symposia, workshops, best practices discussions, and both paper and poster sessions.

The 2023 Annual Meeting & Conference will be held at the Hilton Norfolk The Main, a modern luxury hotel with vibrant spaces and amazing restaurants. From their setting in the heart of Norfolk to their cutting-edge hospitality, "Meet Me at The Main" is your invitation to experience downtown sophistication redefined. We are pleased to offer a conference room rate of $159/night. All guestroom rates are subject to state and local taxes, currently sixteen and a half percent (16.5%), plus $3.00 per room per night occupancy tax. Taxes are subject to change without notice. For triple and quadruple occupancy there is a $20.00 additional charge per adult (18 years or older) per room per night, with maximum occupancy of four (4) persons per room. Self-parking is available for $20/day and valet parking is available for $32/day.

ABSTRACT DEADLINE IS JANUARY 6, 2023

An Invitation from the SGS President

The Southern Gerontological Society's 44th annual regional aging conference will be held at the beautiful Norfolk The Main in Downtown Norfolk, Virginia. Hilton at The Main sits along the waterfront and is a close walk to cultural attractions, shopping, and dining. Our theme is Advancing Effective Solutions: The Interplay of Social Determinants of Health and Health Disparities.

As president of the Southern Gerontological Society, I would like to extend an invitation to you to attend and contribute to our meeting being held on April 11-15, 2023.

This beautiful setting offers all sorts of history, fun, and family-friendly activities. We encourage you to bring your family members and extend your stay before or after the conference to get the most out of the location. Downtown Norfolk offers cruises and boat rides, museums and public art, and independent, chef-inspired restaurants. It is an easily walkable city with trails and a light rail. The Selden Market is a one-of-a-kind experience with a rotating lineup of inspired shops.

The focus of our 44th Annual Meeting and Conference, the Interplay of Social Determinants of Health and Health Disparities, takes a life-course perspective approach to address a vast range of factors that influence health disparities. While genetics and timely and quality health care play a part in health outcomes, social, environmental, and behavioral factors play a larger role in determining health outcomes. The vision statement for Healthy People 2030 is one in which all people can achieve their full potential for health and well-being across the lifespan. Overarching goals include eliminating health disparities and attaining health literacy, two lofty goals directly impacted by the distribution of wealth, power, and resources. There is a history of social exclusion in the U.S. where marginalized groups experience differential health outcomes and access to health.

This year, we are focusing on interventions targeting priority populations for health disparities research that can lead to practice change, improve population health, and lead to better health equity. Solid social networks are protective for health; they provide a system of concrete resources that are helpful for health care utilization. By addressing the fundamental "causes of the causes" of good and ill health, the Social Determinants of Health approach has the potential to remove some of the fundamental barriers that impact health and address some of the most intractable health issues that are closely associated with dimensions of inequity.

Similar to previous years, we are organizing the conference into six domains. We organized themes to drive session creation in ways that ensure that researchers, practitioners, policy advocates, and older adult consumers create linkages in terms of networks, sharing ideas to forward the agenda of reducing inequalities and improving older adult quality of life. The DOMAINS are (1) Age-related Health and Wellness, (2) Environment & Location: The Power of Place, (3) Diversity Topics in Aging Communities, (4) Caregiving, Care Support, and Care Partnerships, (5) Gerontological Education and Professional Development, and (6) Advocacy for or by Older Adults.

We hope you will join us and share your important work at the Norfolk 2023 meeting. We welcome everyone who wants to network with and learn from others in the aging field who are facing similar issues, and who want to serve a diverse population of older adults.

Sincerely,

Bert Waters, Ph.D., FSGS
President, SGS (2022-2024)

Abstract Instructions & Information

A wide variety of topics will be considered, including presentations reporting innovative research, research/practice collaborations, model programs for the future, and public policy discussions. Students are highly encouraged to submit abstracts for consideration as SGS conferences are a great place for students to share their work. This conference welcomes everyone and you do not need to be a member of SGS to present or attend.

Updates to the call for abstracts information can be found at:
<https://southerngerontologicalsociety.org/meeting-abstracts.html>

The deadline for abstract submissions is January 6, 2023.

Required Registration

- Submitting a presentation implies that the presenting authors, as listed within the presentation submission, will register for the conference. Please visit the SGS conference website for registration rates and information.
- When submitting this presentation for consideration, please be sure to distinguish who will be presenting authors versus general contributing authors. All symposium panel members or special guest speakers are required to be registered to attend the conference.
- This conference is structured to include numerous conference registration options including single day passes. Conference rates are generously discounted for members of the Southern Gerontological Society.
- At least one presenting author must plan to be in-person and registered. If additional authors are planning to present virtually, they are not required to register as long as the in-person presenter is registered. We will not be offering live virtual presentations without at least one in-person presenter. Presenters may work with SGS in the case of an unforeseen need to present virtually (i.e., family emergency, COVID diagnosis, etc.).
- If you would prefer to present virtually, you can take advantage of our virtual presentation option. Virtual presentations will not be live. Presenters will submit pre-recorded sessions (we recommend 30 minutes or less) that will be made available to conference attendees. Virtual abstracts will be included in the Conference Program and the Book of Abstracts. There will be a $50 fee in place of conference registration.
- You will be asked to agree to a statement that you understand the registration requirements.

Presentation Logistics

Generally, conference sessions are scheduled to last 60 or 90 minutes.

- Panel symposium are sessions lasting 90 minutes, are organized by the author, and may include a panel of up to five presenters. It is important to note that abstracts for symposium must detail who will be the presenting panel members.
- Paper sessions combine complementary presentations and may be 60 or 90 minutes with each paper receiving 15 - 25 minutes to present depending on the number of papers in that session.

- Technique or Tool Demonstration Workshops, Self Care Wellness Workshops, and Best Practices Presentations are sessions lasting 60 minutes.

Room Set Up - Presentation rooms will all be equipped with a Windows-based laptop computer, a USB connection device, a projector, and A/V support equipment. The conference venue does have WI-FI and the computers will be connected. Depending on the size of the room and its acoustics, a podium microphone may also be installed. For presenters planning on utilizing audio or video feed, it is important to note this as a request for special equipment or room set-up during the submission process so that the program committee can determine if the request can be accommodated. Each conference session will have a moderator present to help guide the session, distribute handouts, and to keep presentations within their allotted time.

Posters - If you submit as a Student or Professional Poster, you will present during a poster session that will likely last 1.5 - 2 hours. You will be expected to share information about your poster with attendees as they move between posters. The poster board display area will be no less than a four-foot tall by six-foot wide surface area. Poster board displays are double-sided and they will be equipped with the appropriate means of adhering the poster to its surface (tacks or clips).

Simple On-Line Submission

Please be sure to read through these instructions and make sure you have all of the information needed before beginning. Submission online is quick and easy. This process will start at the Ex Ordo submission portal - <https://sgs2023.exordo.com/>. Once a user account is created, the user will see a usage-disclaimer statement. While the Call for Presentations is open, authors may come back in and edit their proposals at any time.

Once you are logged in, you will see an announcement with a link to submit your abstract.

A screenshot of a web page for abstract submission. At the top left, it says "SUBMIT ABSTRACT" in a small, dark font. Below that, the text "127 days" is written in a large, dark font, followed by "until submissions close" in a smaller, orange font. Underneath, there are two lines of smaller text: "The submissions deadline is 23:59 on 6 January 2023 EST. Please complete your submissions before this date." and "If this conference has multiple submissions deadlines, you'll see the other deadlines when you submit." At the bottom left of the announcement area is a prominent orange button with the text "Submit Your Abstract Now" and a right-pointing arrow. To the right of the text is a graphic of three overlapping document pages with horizontal lines representing text.

You will then enter the abstract submission workflow. Please review the instructions, scroll to the bottom, and click Next to begin.

TRACK - You will be asked to choose a conference domain (referred to as a track in Ex Ordo). Please review these descriptions of the conference domains to determine your best fit.

Domain 1: Age-related Health and Wellness - America's persistent attention on disease-focused treatments often misses key aspects of quality of life that includes physical, mental and spiritual health, meaningful activity, prevention, social engagement, happiness and enjoyment/pleasure. This track welcomes submissions that address research, best practices, policy agendas/commentaries and local examples of community programming are welcomed on topics such as, but not exclusively limited to, chronic illness, oral health, social isolation and loneliness, sleep, mental health, and drug misuse/dependence.

Domain 2: Environment & Location: The Power of Place - As regional and state-based organizations focused on aging and older adults, we need to consider the influence of place, specifically region and the legacy of history and social institutions on older adults in our communities. Submissions that discuss the social history, shared community, diverse culture(s) or identity of the region with particular attention to the meaning of place (including housing and transportation) are welcomed.

Domain 3: Diversity Topics in Aging Communities - Inequality across many social groups (e.g. race, ethnicity, class, sex, sexuality, immigrant status) and the intersection of these differences have implications for older adults in almost all aspects of their lives. As the United States, as well as other countries attempt to cope with the challenges of a rapidly growing aging population, individuals and their communities are faced with inadequate resources. Submissions that address research, best practices, policy agendas/commentaries and local examples of community resilience are welcomed.

Domain 4: Caregiving, Care Support, and Care Partnerships - Over a lifetime, everyone will need care, and most will provide it to others. While the work of care falls disproportionately to women and vulnerable minority and immigrant groups in the U.S., wide-ranging partnerships are needed to enable a growing number of 'seasoned citizens' reach and progress through their golden years with dignity and style. This domain welcomes all submissions related or pertaining to topics which may include, but are not limited to, caregiving (formal or informal), caregiver self-care, awareness and prevention of elder abuse, neglect, and/or exploitation, veteran's care, respite services, intergenerational partnerships, therapeutic arts, tele-everything (medical, legal, smart-homes), and other creative programming.

Domain 5: Gerontological Education and Professional Development - As the population ages globally, there is a pressing need to maintain persistent education to all aging professionals beginning with a focus on students to help them to adequately prepare for a multiplicity of careers that would either benefit from gerontological expertise or directly address the needs and preferences of older adults. Sessions in this track will offer insight into pedagogical strategies that bring gerontology to the classroom, serve to bridge gerontology students from education to practice, and cater to all professionals wanting to accelerate or enhance their professional skill sets. Sessions that actively demonstrate teaching and learning strategies, marketing and branding, interviewing skills, enhancing social media presence and general best practices in gerontological education are encouraged.

Domain 6: Advocacy For Or By Older Adults - Organizations play an important role in uncovering evidence, developing policy agendas and advocating for and with older adults. Local, state, national and international entities/units also impact advocacy. Submissions that discuss policy and advocacy agendas, financial planning, elder law and/or end-of-life planning, state aging plans or grassroots efforts are strongly encouraged.

FORMAT - You will be asked to choose one of the following presentation formats:

- Student Paper Presentation
- Professional Paper Presentation
- Panel Symposium
- Technique or Tool Demonstration Workshop
- Self Care Wellness Workshop
- Best Practices Presentation
- Student Poster Presentation
- Professional Poster Presentation
- Virtual Presentation (will not be live, must pre-record, will be included in Book of Abstracts and Conference Program, $50 fee in place of conference registration)

TITLE & ABSTRACT - Next, you will enter the title of your abstract and the proposal abstract text. Your title will be the first thing attendees see. Make it interesting and engaging to encourage attendees to come to your session. The body of the presentation proposal in the abstract text box should not exceed 250 words. While submitters will have an additional opportunity to elaborate on their session's diverse appeal, we suggest that the initial abstract proposal also be constructed in a way as to appeal to a very diverse audience.

Abstract proposals may be edited by the presenter/author up until the abstract deadline of January 6, 2023. We strongly encourage that abstract text only be pasted into the window AFTER having all of its formatting removed (copy as plain text).

AUTHORS - Under the "Authors" tab, please indicate if this is a student submission. If it is, our SGS awards committee will be prompted to follow up with the author to determine if this presentation would be eligible to be judged for either a student paper or poster award. Students who are interested in participating in the SGS paper or SGS poster awards MUST also complete the specific award applications by their deadlines through the SGS website. Students who do not complete this step in the award application process will be disqualified from the award competitions.

For the first author, provide the full name, title, affiliation (institution/company/organization), country, location (city and state), secondary e-mail address, and phone number. Due to the recent increase in security by many institutions, e-mails sent from ex ordo may be blocked. It is extremely important that submitting authors and presenters instruct their organizations to add notifications@exordo.com and admin@southerngerontologicalsociety.org to their safe sender list so that our emails aren't quarantined. We ask for an alternative e-mail so that we may be able to reach you with important announcements or status updates on your submission if we do not receive a response.

You will be asked to agree to a statement stating you understand the presentation time limits and the registration requirements.

If there are co-authors, information for each author may be added as "additional authors".

Now that the details of all the authors have been added, you can now list the authors as corresponding or presenting authors. You can have more than one presenting author, but only one corresponding author. Simply click the empty box beside each option to decide. You can also add authors that are not presenting but be sure to uncheck presenting author.

Authors can also be re-arranged in their order. This is done by picking up the author's tile and moving it above, or below another author's tile. Alternatively, you can use the Re-Order option on the right-hand side of the page.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION - Authors will be asked to market the session to a diverse audience, provide three learning objectives, describe how the session applies to the conference theme (if applicable), indicate understanding of the commercial interest/conflict of interest policy and indicate any requests for special equipment or room set up.

Please send a CV or resume for all presenting authors to Amanda James at admin@southerngerontologicalsociety.org. These will be used for continuing education application purposes.

Need Additional Assistance?

There are several useful resources on the SGS website which include specific examples on how a presentation abstract text body proposal looks and what it includes at <https://southerngerontologicalsociety.org/meeting-abstracts.html>.

You can also email Amanda James at admin@southerngerontologicalsociety.org or call 866-920-4660 with any questions.

What Happens Next?

We hope to make announcements by late January/early February. You will be given more details of next steps if your abstract is accepted.
