THE SOUTHERN GERONTOLOGIST

VOLUME 31

SPRING/SUMMER 2024

ISSUE 1

Greetings

from the incoming President of the Southern Gerontological Society, Dr. Ethlyn McQueen-Gibson hailing from Yorktown, Virginia. Gerontology is a field of study and service that is important to me for many reasons. The importance of bridging research and practice is the key to addressing health disparities for older adults as we approach the next century.

Dr. Ethlyn McQueen-Gibson

I currently serve as an Adjunct Associate Professor in the Department of Internal Medicine, Division of Geriatric Medicine at Eastern Virginia Medical School in Norfolk, VA focusing on Alzheimer's research and holds appointments as adjunct professor at Old Dominion University School of Nursing in Norfolk, VA, and Norfolk State University School of Nursing. From August 2019 until January 2023, I served as an associate professor at Hampton University's School of Nursing and Inaugural Director for the Center for Gerontology Excellence and Minority Aging.

I hold a Doctor of Nursing Practice degree from Ursuline College Breen School of Nursing in Cleveland, OH, a Master of Science degree in Nursing from the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta, GA, and a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Ursuline College Breen School of Nursing. I am a Victor W. Marshall Fellow in Applied Gerontology conferred by the Southern Gerontological Society.

I have practiced nursing for over 40 years to include clinical and administrative positions and am a proud veteran having served as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army Nurse Corps on active and reserve duty; retiring at the rank of lieutenant colonel.

My platform for the first year 2024-2025 will focus on the following:

1. Membership recruitment and retention
2. Increased partnerships across the region with a focus on the following states (AL, MS, LA, TN, TX)
3. Launching “new” conferences – to build partnerships & address education needs of regional partners
  - a. 2025 – Birmingham, AL
  - b. 2026 – San Antonio/Dallas, TX (tentative)

ANNUAL MEETING & CONFERENCE RECAP

Greenville, SC played host to our last Annual Meeting & Conference where attendees networked with their friends and colleagues, shared best practices and research, and enjoyed the local hospitality.

We received 218 registrations and had at least 20 additional attendees who participated as presenters only, exhibitors only, companions, and guests.

In addition to great attendance, this year's Annual Meeting & Conference also received great reviews!

The conference was excellent. It had a good balance between professional and being personally enriching.

It was my second year at this conference and each time I am left impressed at the forward-thinking messages and information being shared via this wonderful conference.

So much about this conference is excellent. Leaders and attendees come across as warm and welcoming, the conference is jam-packed with highly relevant, and important content and research.

The SGS annual conference is more than home to me. I am blessed to have been introduced to it.

2024 SERVICE ACTIVITY

SGS partnered with Senior Action for our 2024 service activity. Under the direction of Andrea Smith, Executive Director/CEO, Ann Peart, Director of Lifestyle Programs, and other fantastic staff, Senior Action is a vibrant, growing organization that serves close to 5,000 seniors throughout Greenville County.

Conference Attendees had the opportunity to visit Senior Action and learn more about their innovative approaches for funding. How is this a service activity? In planning with Andrea Smith on what would be most helpful during our time in Greenville, she discussed the need for more gerontologists to understand the work of local service providers and the need to advocate on their behalf. This site visits helped inspire conference attendees to engage with their local providers.

In addition to the site visits, Dr. Cynthia Hancock provided a free training for local senior service providers on trends in gerontology. Dr. Hancock was able to help spread our SGS message of the importance of research to practice.

Lastly, SGS conference attendees were graced with the wonderful talent of the Carolinians Senior Jazz Band during our Awards Luncheon. SGS made a donation to support this wonderful music program for older adults.

IMPROVING HEALTH AND WELLBEING IN VIRGINIA BY PREVENTING SEXUAL VIOLENCE AGAINST OLDER ADULTS THROUGH DEVELOPING A WEB-BASED ENDING VIOLENCE ACROSS THE LIFESPAN (EVAL) BYSTANDER TRAINING

Michelle D. Hand, PhD | mhand2@gmu.edu

Sexual violence and resulting psychological trauma are preventable yet ongoing public health crises, with substantial and enduring impacts on physical and mental health, life satisfaction, and lifespan. Older adults remain vulnerable to sexual violence and related posttraumatic stress yet have been largely excluded from sexual violence prevention and intervention efforts, owing in large part to ongoing needs for practitioner awareness that sexual violence occurs in later life. This project will involve the collaborative development of a bystander approach to address sexual violence, by conducting focus groups with at-risk older adults, practitioners who serve older adults, and with practitioners who serve victims. The bystander intervention will then be implemented in long-term care and sexual violence agencies, and analyzed, using pre- and post-intervention surveys. It is anticipated that this project will yield an in-depth understanding of sexual violence in later life, prevention and intervention among an under-researched ageing population. The development of this training is also anticipated to encourage interdisciplinary collaboration among practitioners who work with older adults and those who serve sexual violence survivors, bridging a key gap in current prevention efforts.

SGS Funds Disaster Preparedness Program

LEVERAGING COMMUNITY BASED ASSETS OF NORTH CAROLINA'S COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE (CERT) TEAMS TO IMPROVE DISASTER PREPAREDNESS FOR OLDER AND VULNERABLE POPULATIONS: A TRAIN-THE-TRAINER INITIATIVE

UMBC Erickson School of Aging Studies

Funds received will be utilized for the purpose of developing a pilot training program which will be delivered to Community Emergency Response Trainers (CERT) across the state of North Carolina. The contents of this program will be developed to train CERT program trainers to better understand the specific disaster preparedness needs of older adult and vulnerable populations. CERT trainers will be supported in establishing connections with already existing community-based assets to encourage improved implementation of all hazards household disaster preparedness. Upon completion of this training, CERT trainers will then be given support to identify community-based partners (i.e., churches, senior centers, auxiliary units, etc.) with whom they can then share the training. By the end of the grant period, the goal of this project is to train a minimum of twenty (20) North Carolina CERT program trainers in all hazards disaster preparedness (as it relates to the needs of older adults and vulnerable populations) and to help each of those trainers hold a minimum of one (1) community training within their CERT region.

This pilot program is being designed with the expectation that the results could be replicable in any CERT association and to become considered as a best practice in connecting older adults to vitally important disaster preparedness strategies through reliable and accessible CERT program trainers and established CERT associations. One of the most significant benefits to utilizing established CERT associations and program trainers is that these trainers are highly familiar with their respective CERT areas and the resources available within them. They are often familiar with members of the community and have a commitment to emergency response services. Training conducted by trusted members of a community may aid in enhancing trust of the training material and preparedness recommendations. Utilizing community liaisons (lay persons) through community based participatory approaches has been shown to be a highly effective way of gaining the trust of marginalized and vulnerable groups (Ali et al., 2023). In addition, and an added value, community members who are able to incorporate improved all hazards preparedness actions, ultimately provide relief when disaster does strike by possibly needing to rely less urgently on formal disaster response.

This programming is being developed and will be delivered with the assistance of partners at the North Carolina Department of Public Safety, Division of Emergency Management, Office of Partnership Engagement

WEBINAR - Art Education and Creative Aging Older Adults as Learners, Makers, and Teachers of Art

Edited By Melanie Davenport, Linda Hoepfner Poling, Rébecca Bourgault, Marjorie Cohee Manifold

July 24, 2024
12 PM - 1 PM ET

This text explores how art education can meaningfully address the needs of older adults as learners, makers, and teachers of art in formal and informal settings. It combines perspectives of museum educators, teacher preparation professors, art therapists, teaching artists, and older artists on what is meant by Creative Aging and the ways art education can support the health and well-being of this population. Most importantly, the book discusses what the field of art education can gain from older adult learners and creators. Join SGS as we host a webinar with the editors to learn more!

North Carolina Proactively Plans for Older Population Growth

North Carolina's Multisector Plan for Aging (MPA), called "All Ages, All Stages NC", is a 10-year plan to enhance existing endeavors to make North Carolina a truly age-friendly state. The MPA was proposed by the state Division of Aging and endorsed via Governor Roy Cooper's May 2023 executive order. Here is a link to an overview of the MPA.

An official MPA progress report was delivered to Governor Cooper May 2, with a final report, containing over 100 recommendations, to be submitted this Summer. North Carolina is now one of eight states to have developed/implemented an MPA. An evolving plan, the MPA is mandated to be annually reviewed by the NC Governor's Advisory Council on Aging.

SGSers who played roles in North Carolina's MPA include:

- Mary Bethel, co-chair of the All Ages, All Stages NC steering committee and who currently chairs the NC Coalition on Aging board of directors and serves on the NC Governor's Advisory Council on Aging, received the Rhoda Jennings Distinguished Older Advocate Award in 2017;
- Helen Mack, an AARP-NC volunteer who contributed to the MPA as a member of the Age My Way team, received the Rhoda Jennings Distinguished Older Advocate Award in 2020;
- Bill Lamb, former executive director and board chair of Friends of Residents in Long Term Care and a member of the NC Senior Tar Heel Legislature, served as an MPA steering committee member and received the Rhoda Jennings Distinguished Older Advocate Award in 2015;
- Ed Rosenberg, an MPA steering committee member and chair of the NC Governor's Advisory Council on Aging, is an SGS past president (2008-09), recipient of the Gordon Streib Distinguished Academic Gerontologist Award (2006), and a Victor Marshall Fellow (2023).

LIFE COURSE, CULTURE & AGING VOLUME 10
GLOBAL TRANSFORMATIONS

Voices of Long-Term Care Workers

Elder Care in the Time of COVID-19
and Beyond

ANDREA FREIDUS AND DENA SHENK

Voices of Long Term Care Workers: Elder Care in the Time of Covid-19 and Beyond

by Andrea Freidus and SGS member, Dena Shenk

Now available in hard copy for purchase and open access on the publisher's website. It is Volume 10 in the series on Life Course, Culture and Aging: Global Transformations. It is appropriate for a broad audience and select chapters can be assigned for students. It is available as Open Access with support from Knowledge Unlatched.

The book is based on a qualitative rapid assessment conducted during the early stages of the pandemic in central North Carolina, USA. It is based on extensive zoom interviews and focus groups with workers providing care across the long-term care continuum as we all tried to understand and respond to Covid. Each chapter also includes a first-person essay by an individual sharing their experience.

inspire

Improving Assisted Living for All Involved

The INSPIRE Study is actively recruiting assisted living communities and informal caregivers (assisted living residents' family members and friends) for a five-year study funded by the National Institute on Aging within the National Institutes of Health (NIH/NIA).

The focus of this five-year multilevel study is on investigating the involvement of informal caregivers (family and friends) in the end-of-life care of assisted living residents with moderate-to-advanced dementia with a goal of learning ways to improve caregivers' experiences and residents' care outcomes. Findings will provide important information needed to guide policy and practice, including developing recommendations for training and education of assisted living staff and families.

Under the direction of Dr. Molly Perkins, the INSPIRE study is led by a multidisciplinary team of researchers from the Division of Geriatrics and Gerontology at Emory University and the Gerontology Institute at Georgia State University. For more information about the study and to learn about opportunities to participate, please visit the INSPIRE website at emoryinspirestudy.org or contact Dr. Jeffrey Lentz, a post-doctoral fellow and SGS member helping lead recruitment efforts at jeffrey.g.lentz@emory.edu.

We are Seeking Participants

We are recruiting family members to participate in our new research program!

We are currently partnering with assisted living communities and caregivers of residents with dementia to learn about their experiences. Caregivers' insights are invaluable for better understanding the caregiver experience and this study may contribute to a positive impact on quality of life for assisted living residents.

- Contact free interviews (Zoom or phone)
- Flexible times and dates for interviews
- Up to $250 in compensation

SGS Mentorship Program

Calling all Students, Junior Faculty, Early Career Professionals, And More!

Are you looking for a mentor? If so, complete our mentorship interest survey. This brief survey aims to assess the need for a mentoring program for members of the Southern Gerontological Society (SGS). The mentoring is specifically designed for, but not limited to, students, junior faculty, and practitioners. The goal is to pair SGS members who feel they'd benefit from mentoring with a senior SGS member who has significant experience in your desired mentoring area.

The information from this survey is confidential unless you choose to provide your name and contact information so a potential mentor can contact you.

There is no fee or other obligation on your part for mentoring service.

Thoughts from a SGS Mentee

Despite our reduced meeting frequency, largely due to my schedule, my interactions with Dr. Taylor Jones remain highly productive and meaningful. As my dissertation and post PhD plans take shape, I'm increasingly grateful for her guidance and support, which has helped me navigate the challenges of becoming a doctoral candidate. Her unwavering encouragement and reassurances have been a constant source of comfort, helping me stay focused on the opportunities ahead and mitigate the anxiety that comes with embarking on this new chapter.

In this episode we are joined by Licensed Master Social Worker, Morgan Alexander whose work is centered around overlooking power dynamics in healthcare and human services. Power disparity and inequity silence the voice of those being served and strip their autonomy. Morgan utilizes the RESPECT Model to demonstrate how we can all advocate for and deliver better trauma-informed care in long term care settings and the community.

Making the Most of Your Membership

Contribute to the *Southern Gerontologist

SGS is excited to bring back the Southern Gerontologist to our membership. Our next issue will be released in the fall, and we invite SGS members to submit articles on issues.

What's New(s)?

- Please send your professional accomplishments (i.e. promotions, job changes, awards, grant work, scholarships, graduation notices) and newsworthy personal events such as weddings, anniversaries, births, etc.
- Have you published a video, article, or podcast you would like to have liked into the newsletter? We can do that! Just send us a link to the material and a description, along with any information you need us to include to help promote the great things you are working on!
- Also, we would like to remember those who have been influential to SGS. Should you know of anyone who may have passed away, please let us know. We welcome the opportunity to publish "In Memoriams" written on the behalf of SGS members who are no longer with us.
- And if you need to brag on one of your fellow members, that's okay too!
- If you have any upcoming events you'd like other members to put on their calendars, please be sure to send the dates and details!

Please limit articles to 250 words with no more than two photos. Send content to Amanda James at admin@southerngerontologicalsociety.org.
